

Notice of school support system (special examination) for households whose household finances have suddenly changed due to the novel coronavirus disease (COVID-19)

As a general rule, the school enrollment support system examines income from the previous year (2019.1.1 to 2019.12.31); however, for households whose household finances have changed suddenly due to the effects of the novel coronavirus disease (COVID-19), the most recent income (special examination) will be used.

If you would like to have a special examination, please read this notice and submit the "School support application form for 2020" and the necessary documents to the school your child is attending.

If you have already applied for school support for the year 2020, you do not need to apply again immediately. Those who applied during April will be informed of the examination results by the school in late July.

1. Persons who require support

(A) Those who have not yet applied for school support for the year 2020 and who have met the requirements for normal school support

- (1) Those who are no longer able to receive welfare after April 2019 (excluding abolition due to household changes)
- (2) Those receiving child-rearing allowances
- (3) Others who are in financial difficulties (those whose income for the entire household in the previous year is at or below the following limit)

Household personnel	2 people	3 people	4 people	5 people	6 people	7 people	8 people
Total income (Criteria)	3.80 million yen	4.46 million yen	4.97 million yen	5.62 million yen	6.20 million yen	6.89 million yen	7.42 million yen
Gross income	2.50 million yen	3.03 million yen	3.44 million yen	3.96 million yen	4.42 million yen	5.00 million yen	5.48 million yen

*For details, please read the "Notice of the school support system (2020)" distributed by the school in April 2020.

*Income is the "total income amount" listed on the taxation (non-taxation) certificate. In the case of a withholding slip, this refers to the amount in the "Amount after deduction of employment income" column, and in the case of a tax return, is the amount in the "Total" column for the "Income amount".

*In the case of single-parent homes, homes where children are raised by persons other than parents, homes where there are children with disabilities (those having disability certificates, nursing notebooks (love notebooks), etc.), households with children or students in the individual support class, households that have received a medical expense deduction, and households with multiple income earners, a certain amount is deducted from income, so may be able to be certified even though the limit may be exceeded.

Proceed to section "4. How to Apply".

(B) Special Examination
